

Call for Research Participants

For a study on conducting strangulation investigations and prosecutions in Canada

Are you currently working, or have worked, as a police officer or Crown Counsel in Canada since 2020?

Dr. Amanda McCormick is recruiting police officers and Crown Counsel to participate in an approximately 90 minute virtual interview on the challenges with and strategies for conducting criminal investigations and prosecutions on strangulation in Canada.

This study has received ethical approval from the UFV Human Research Ethics Board, Protocol #101877

A close-up photograph of a person's neck and hands. The person's hands are placed on their neck, with fingers spread, suggesting a self-examination or a gesture of concern. The person has dark hair and is wearing a light-colored, textured top.

For more information or to participate in an interview, please email Amanda.McCormick@ufv.ca